To oppose granting request, submit a written protest by deadline of October 7, 2015. Regional Planning received 2 protest letters during the comment period. Normally the request would be denied based on the two protests. x. Community Discussion
Mr. Robert Reyes (RR): For the last 3-4 years, Reyes Winery has been working with Regional Planning on a Minor Modification to their CUP. Modifications were triggered by reported violations of original CUP. A number of modifications have been incorporated into the Minor Mod to CUP. The majority of the discussion centered on paving the access road from Sierra Highway which was a requirement in the original approved CUP. RR stated the fire department doesn't require the road to be paved. DH stated community concerns raised in 2008 when RR attended to discuss the proposed CUP was dust and paving of the access road. MJ read the ADTC letter written to RP on July 15, 2008 indicating community concerns and specifically the concern of a paved road. The approved CUP states the access road is to be paved. RR indicated the “paved road” was an oversight and he never intended to pave the road indicating paving was “obsolete and unnecessary.” Most of the Council members in attendance indicated they personally didn't care about the actual paving of the road...but were concerned about the process of non-compliance with a CUP and erosion of the process. Based on time constraints placed on the Council by Regional Planning and their date for the hearing of the Minor Modifications, the Council was unable to gather current community input on the proposed changes. In order to uphold the community comments from 2008, the Council was obligated to file a protest which they did on October 5, 2015. Lillian Smith of the Country Journal offered to run a survey to determine current community concerns on paving the road. MJ objected to the survey indicating the survey could undermine the purpose and effectiveness of the Council of gathering community input in a public way through our meetings. MSP: Move, with objection, to accept Ms. Smith's generous offer to run a survey in the Country Journal to see what the community has to say about these issues. (Paving of road and number of cargo containers)	M: EP S: TF	5-0-0
xi. ADTC to determine whether or not to retract protest letter or uphold the protest.

D. Film: Steve Cummings: Addressed the Council stating his platform he had when running for town council. 1. To give back to the community, 2. Annexation and 3. Term limits. He wanted to poll the audience to see how they felt about term limits. Term limits for only the President. Staggered every 2 years. EP: stated that to poll the audience about term limits might not be the best way to determine how the Council operates. While term limits may be the cornerstone of democracy, there are some situations that are better served without term limits. If the Council evolves into a monopoly of power, that may be the time to address it. Until then, the current system is working. SC: As a parting gesture, he will withdraw his request for presidential term limits.

J. Acton/Agua Dulce School Board Liaison: Ed Porter: Moved to 10.B. Chris Burgard, Agua Dulce Community member: Related the complaint by a parent of a 7 th grade High Desert Middle School about an assignment for a comparative world religion history lesson. Based on the complaint, Dr. Woodard, Superintendent suspended drawings of all religious symbols. Mr. Burgard felt the Superintendent was imposing Sharia Law and denying the freedoms contained in the First Amendment to the Constitution of the US. He requested the Town Council draft a letter to Acton-Agua Dulce School Board petitioning them to reverse the "Pro-Sharia Law" decision and

restore the constitutional rights. EP: Explained the process the School Board operates under. They must uphold the US Constitution and as board members, they are held to stringent limitations and guidelines and can be held criminally responsible. He appreciates Mr. Burgard's efforts trying to address the important matter. As a district, they must watch for actions that are purposefully intended to create conflict or discord. There has been misinformation reported in the media. The required curriculum has not been pulled. The immediate response was to stop everything on a temporary basis until the matter was investigated and policy was reviewed. The proposed policy will not ban drawing of any religious figure or symbol. Nor will they require a student to draw a figure they are not comfortable with. EP invited Mr. Burgard to attend the next School Board meeting to address the Board and to hear about the proposed policy. DH: Indicated the ADTC has certain procedures to follow. This issue was not listed on the agenda so we cannot take any action, but if Mr. Burgard feels the need to request the ADTC take action, he can request the item be placed on a future agenda so the community has a chance to weigh in on the matter. School Board meeting is Thursday, November 12, 2015
